

Canadians Cross Rhine; Withdraw

WITH THE FIRST CANADIAN ARMY IN NORTHERN HOLLAND (CP)—British and Canadian patrols crossed the 250-foot-wide Neder Rhine in the Arnhem area of Holland today and later withdrew.

(The Free Netherlands radio reported that British and Canadian troops had crossed the Rhine east and west of Arnhem.)

Fleet Goes to Malaya

LONDON (Reuter)—A British fleet, consisting of some 10 units, has left the Red Sea bound for the Indian Ocean to take part in operations for the reconquest of Burma and Malaya, the Japanese Domei agency claimed today.

The report said Britain had already assembled in that area a fleet which included seven aircraft carriers, five of them of 23,000 tons.

Axis Fish for Word On Lisbon's Plans

LONDON (CP)—A Tokyo dispatch broadcast by the German Transocean agency, possibly in an effort to learn Lisbon's intentions, said today Japan had "no knowledge" of a Portuguese declaration of war against the Japanese.

The peculiar comment was based on a rumor originating in Ankara that Portugal had taken such action.

U.S. Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt has approved legislation increasing the U.S. public debt limit from $260,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Negligence Charged By Coroner's Jury

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—A coroner's jury here, after inquiring into the deaths of Robert Blaine, Gordon Boyd, David Lyon, C. W. Hanson, D. Demich, V. S. Einarson, A. Tynnel, J. J. Boudreau and J. R. Hargrove, found that they "met their deaths at approximately 4:50 p.m., March 16, in the Seymour Narrows, and further find that the accident was caused through negligence on the part of the persons responsible in not providing a more adequate boat for transporting men in the dangerous waters of Seymour Narrows."

No Quebec Loggers

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. logging operators have rejected a Selective Service offer to recruit 300 Quebec woodsmen to work in B.C. forests this summer. William McKinstry, selective service regional superintendent, said today. The operators would not agree to pay transportation costs.

Argentina Rejoins Pan-American Family

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Argentina signed today the acts of the inter-American conference and thereby rejoined the pan-American family.

Patrols Advance From Burma Landing

CALCUTTA (CP)—Fifteen Indian Corps patrols have advanced 42 miles south of their landing point on the west coast of Burma and entered Taungup, 65 miles west of the Irrawaddy River town of Prome and 185 northwest of Angoon, the southeast Asia command announced today.

Crash Injures 3

Three airmen required hospital treatment following the crash a week ago of an R.C.A.F. Lockheed Ventura at Smithers B.C., the Western Air Command announced today. The men, who suffered burns, were flown to Vancouver for treatment. The accident occurred just as the plane was taking off from the Smithers airport. The aircraft was reported a total loss.

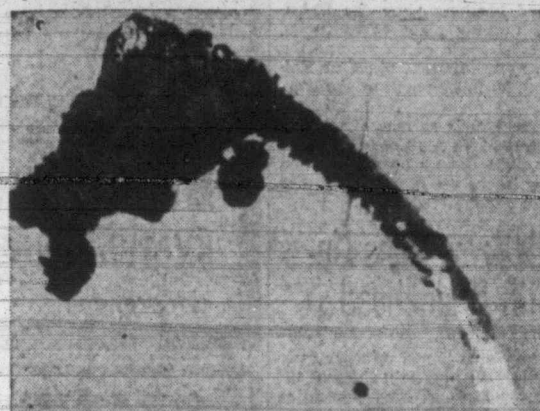

'Important Events' Brewing; Border Closed

LONDON (CP)—The Swiss-Italian frontier will be closed beginning today because of anticipated "important events," the Paris and Brussels radios reported in almost simultaneous broadcasts.

The Brussels radio explained that "very important events are taking shape in northern Italy and new developments must be expected in the very near future."

Jap Dive Bomber Goes Up in Smoke

Blazing fiercely, a Jap bomber hit by ack-ack from a U.S. carrier plunges toward the water like a fiery comet. Action took place during an Allied attack off the Ryukyus.

Canadian Army Will Fight With Yanks In War On Japs

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King announced this afternoon in the Commons a Canadian army force which will operate with the United States army will train and organize in Canada before moving to the Pacific war theatre.

Mr. King described Canada's plans for the Pacific as "modest" and added that compared with Dominion forces engaged in the European conflict they would be "very much less."

He referred to the wide expanse of the Pacific battle area and the fact that it was not possible to concentrate large numbers of men. He said that the size and composition of the forces thus engaged will be "determined by the needs of the situation."

ALL VOLUNTEERS

He repeated previous announcements from the heads of the three service departments that Pacific service would be on a voluntary basis and personnel selected for such service would be given 30 clear days' leave in Canada before proceeding to the new theatre of operations.

The Prime Minister made these points:

1. At the time of the Quebec Conference it had been tentatively decided Canada's participation in the Pacific would be concentrated in the north and central Pacific area. He did not elaborate this.
2. The Royal Canadian Navy contribution will start building up after a decisive stage of the European war and will come under command of British forces.
3. R.C.A.F. squadrons likewise will serve with the Royal Air Force.

EUROPE BATTLE FIRST

Mr. King said Canada would continue to concentrate all her efforts on the European conflict until a decisive stage had been reached. After that she would contribute to the forces of occupation which would ensure that Germany would not evade any terms of surrender.

The size of the forces of occupation would be "modest." After the war the size of the overseas forces would be reduced progressively. This would depend on the amount of shipping available to transport the men back to Canada.

"A progressive reduction in overseas forces will commence at the maximum rate that shipping is available," he said.

He added the problem of finding sufficient transport would be a difficult one and it might require time and patience before the forces would all be brought home.

OVER-ALL COMMAND

While Mr. King's statement indicated the army would be under direct U.S. command with the navy and air force under British command, it has been reliably learned that the over-all command of all three services will be U.S. Already the British Pacific Fleet is reported to be operating in close co-operation with the American command.

There has been speculation the R.C.A.F. Pacific force may total between 15 and 20 fighter and bomber squadrons with the army force reaching the size of a division with possibly another division in reserve.

In reply to a question from Gordon Graydon, Mr. King said no compulsion would be used in making up the force to fight against Japan. Only those who wanted to go would be sent.

Freighter Grounds

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 10,000-ton Park Steamships freighter Dundurn Park ran aground on a North Shore sandbar several hundred yards east of the Lions Gate bridge Tuesday night, but was pulled off a few minutes later by the Straits Towing and Salvage Co. tugs Cheerful and Stanby.

First report of the tragedy on the police radio was to the effect that two boys, 10 and 12 years of age, sons of Harry Porter, Indian trapper of Lower Post, died suddenly while camped with their father on the trapline near Mile 535. A third son, 15 years old, was rushed to Watson Lake hospital in a very serious condition.

Constable Leonard Fary reported the illnesses and deaths appeared to have been caused by poisoning, probably from food.

Only one of the Indians could speak English.

Later reports said that four more Indians had died at the camp and that it may be possible some fatal illness has struck the camp.

The Indians apparently are from around Telegraph Creek.

Coroner Alexander is on his way to the scene from Pouce Coupe.

GERMANS LOOT OWN TRAINS—Here is pictorial evidence of breakdown in German civilian morale. Civilians are shown robbing freight cars cut off at Hanau, Germany, east of Frankfurt, by the 4th Armored Division's rapid advance deep into the Reich. Neutral reports reaching the Allies say the same thing is becoming more common in German controlled territories.

All of Hungary Freed of Nazis, Russians Report

LONDON (CP)—The Russians "declared" tonight all Hungary has been freed of the Germans.

In an earlier broadcast order of the day Marshal Stalin announced Red Army forces had captured Bratislava, capital of the puppet state of Slovakia on the eastern gateway to Vienna.

Marshal Stalin said the city fell to Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army only four hours after advance Red Army troops had moved on it from three directions.

The capture of Bratislava opens up a traditional gateway into Austria and Vienna. Other Red Army forces already were surging through the administrative district of Greater Vienna and were within six miles of the city proper, now within easy reach of Soviet artillery.

RAILWAY CUT

Wiener Neustadt, one of the biggest aircraft production centres in Europe, fell to Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's 3rd Ukrainian Army which drove on 16 miles to the southwest, capturing Neunkirchen and Gloggnitz. The Russians cut the main Vienna-Venice railroad and a trans-Alpine highway connecting the war arsenals of Austria and Czechoslovakia with German troops in Italy.

At Gloggnitz the Russians were within seven miles of the 3,215-foot Semmering Pass and were 137 miles east of Hitler's mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden.

In the drive on Vienna another wing of Tolbukhin's Army capitalized on a crossing of the Leitha River and dashed 17 miles through a web of highways and railroads, each an enemy defence line. The Russians by-passed the sulphur Spa of Baden and captured Veim, within the boundaries of Vienna set by the Nazi party and only six miles south of the metropolitan limits.

H.M.C.S. Uganda With Pacific Fleet

By WILLIAM STEWART

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—H.M.C.S. Uganda, the Royal Canadian Navy's first cruiser, has joined the British Pacific Fleet.

The warship, commanded by Capt. E. R. Mainguy of Duncan, B.C., is the first unit of the Canadian fighting services to enter the war in the Pacific.

The officers and ratings before joining the Uganda had wide experience in naval ships of all sizes and classes.

The part played in the capture of a German submarine earned the D.S.M. for Chief Stoker David Williams of Victoria, B.C.

Doctor Parachutes to Aid Sick Indians; 6 Reported Dead

Six Indians are dead at a camp 20 miles over the mountains from mile 535 on the Alaska Highway, B.C. Police headquarters here reported today. Cause of death is unknown. A doctor of the air rescue service has parachuted into the camp with quantities of medical supplies and will return to Pouce Coupe by dog team.

First report of the tragedy on the police radio was to the effect that two boys, 10 and 12 years of age, sons of Harry Porter, Indian trapper of Lower Post, died suddenly while camped with their father on the trapline near Mile 535. They Have the Victory Look

In the midst of one of the most devastating offensives ever to hit Germany, Allied field commanders exuberantly greet Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at an impromptu conference somewhere behind the lines on the western front. Left to right are: Gen. Eisenhower, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, commanding U.S. 3rd Army; Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commanding 12th Army Group comprised of the 1st and 3rd U.S. armies, and Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, commanding the 1st U.S. Army.

Allies Hurl 3,000 Planes Against Northern Germany

LONDON (CP)—U.S. heavy bombers, estimated to number 1,400, paced a 3,000-plane assault on Germany today and struck submarine yards at Kiel and Hamburg and a number of airfields over a wide area of northern Germany.

It was the second attack on Kiel in less than 24 hours. Before the U.S. heavy bombers roared in, a strong force of British Lancasters bombed troop concentrations at Nordhausen in support of the U.S. 3rd Army. It was the second British air attack in 16 hours of Nordhausen, 55 miles east of Kassel, on the direct route to Berlin.

Tuesday night Mosquito bombers attacked Berlin and Plauen, near the Czechoslovak border.

The raid on Berlin was the 47th in 43 nights. The German radio reported the Mosquitoes attacked the German capital in two formations, one striking shortly before midnight, and the other an hour later. About 160 planes participated in the raid, the enemy account said.

British intruders ranged over a wide area during the night, strafing airfields jammed with German planes being shuttled back out of the way of the advancing Allied ground forces.

The Air Ministry said three British planes were missing from all the night operations and Tuesday's assault on Nordhausen.

The U.S. 8th Air Force lost one bomber and three fighters in the Kiel raid, Tuesday, which centred on three shipbuilding yards that had been converted into submarine construction centres.

Fighter-bombers based on the continent were unable to get off the ground until midafternoon Tuesday.

British 2nd Tactical Air Force planes continued harassing German attempts to flee east from the Netherlands.

With the 1st Army, the 9th compressed the annihilation pocket in the Ruhr to a perimeter of 190 miles. Up to 150,000 doomed German troops were reported caught in the encirclement. All German efforts to break the ring were frustrated.

Other important cities taken included:

- Muenster, capital of Westphalia, now a burned-out old cathedral town. The communications centre of 143,748 fell to the SKYROCKET—Trailing a streamer of smoke, this new jet-propelled Bell "Aircomet" zooms high over heads of workers at the General Electric plant at Syracuse, N.Y., where mass production of jet engines was first started. Military security has veiled the plane's performance, but it is believed to approach the speed of sound.

Spearheads Rolling On Plain 140 Miles From Reich Capital

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS (AP)—Allied armies reached the Weser and Ems Rivers today, pouring through shredded German lines within 48 miles of the North Sea, 38 miles of the great Prussian stronghold of Hannover, and 75 miles of the big Saxony city of Leipzig.

In the centre, the U.S. 3rd Army burst out into the rolling Thuringian plain in the heart of Germany and the battleground of middle Europe, 140 miles from Berlin and 58 miles from Czechoslovakia. Kassel, great plane and tank manufacturing centre, fell to Lt. Gen. Patton's forces today.

The French 1st Army captured Karlsruhe, capital of Baden and a major industrial and traffic centre of 189,000 six miles east of the Rhine. It was heavily fortified and once a pivot of the Siegfried Line.

The U.S. 7th Army, flanking the Black Forest, fought to within 34 miles of Nuremberg and into the heart of Wuerzburg, Bavarian capital of Lower Franconia.

The British 2nd Army, strong in armor, was racing toward the North Sea so swiftly Field Marshal Montgomery again imposed a partial security blackout, to confuse 90,000 Germans he hopes to trap in Holland.

Canadians Closing Trap Within Trap

The 1st Canadian Army directly menaced Arnhem and moved within less than 20 miles of the Zuider Zee, forming a trap within the larger trap and threatening hourly to interdict the V-bomb coast from which the Germans bombard England.

Lt. Gen. Dempsey's British forces reached the Ems 45 miles northwest of Osnabrueck—a city where the main roads to Holland and north from the Ruhr converge. The U.S. 9th Army reached the Weser and imposed the threat to Hannover, tied to all north Germany by railroads. The Weser and Elbe are the last large streams on the high road to Berlin.

Released By Yanks Russian Prisoners Eat Raw Flour

By WES GALLAGHER
TUETOBURGER WALD, Germany (AP)—Freed from one of Germany's largest prisoner of war camps by a U.S. armored column, some 33,000 starving Russians used their first hours of liberty in a wild hunt for food.
While hardened Americans looked in horror at conditions that had brought death to an estimated 30,000 other Russians during the last three years, the emaciated survivors rushed to almost empty storehouses, cramped their mouths with raw flour, scraped food bits off the floors and dug with bony hands for potatoes in nearby fields.

When one of the German guards was asked if he would be content to be kept prisoner under the same conditions the Germans had kept these Russians, he turned almost white with fright and refused to answer.

Inside hospital buildings the scenes were shocking.
"Look," said a Russian doctor, asking several prisoners to take off their ragged clothes.

From the waist up the skin hung loose on the bones. One man had weighed more than 200 pounds when captured. He now weighed 110 pounds.

There were more than 1,300
such starved remnants of men in one section of the hospital.

A Russian major-general and his staff were found among 6,538
Allied prisoners liberated Tuesday by U.S. forces in Germany which captured a prisoner of war camp at Bad Orb, southwest of Fulda.

Wing Cmdr. F. C. Carling,
Kelly of Toronto and Wing Cmdr.
J. G. Stephenson of Windsor, Ont., are the first Canadians to return to Britain after being freed from German prison camps and they told in an interview of appalling condition in prison camps.

The Germans "are terribly afraid of the Russians and paral-yzed with fear at Allied air raids," both Carling-Kelly and Stephenson said.

Canadian army headquarters in Ottawa have named seven more Canadian soldiers who have arrived safely at the Russian port of Odessa after liberation from German prisoner of war camps by the Red Army, bringing to 84 the number of Canadians thus named.

B.C. Teachers Urge Full P.T. Program

VANCOUVER (CP)—A comprehensive physical education training program, including a department of health and physical education at the University of B.C. where a degree may be obtained, is being urged by the B.C. Teachers' Federation, in an annual convention here.

The federation will request a meeting with Education Minister H. G. T. Perry as soon as possible to present the recommendation.
Other resolutions dealt largely with proposed curriculum changes in English, mathematics, commercial, languages and science.

FIRE DESTROYS FAMOUS OLD RESIDENCE—A blazing gable crashes to the ground in the fire which razed the 50-year-old, 15-room Bryden House at 664 Head Street, at noontime Tuesday. Service and civilian families living in the house, converted to apartments during the war, were left homeless by the blaze. Considerable personal property was destroyed although neighbors rescued as much as they could before the rapidly-spreading flames became threatening.

Admiral Nelles Looks To Big Peacetime Navy

With the coming of Canada's part in the Pacific War, shipping through Victoria and Vancouver may be "immense," according to Admiral Percy W. Nelles, C.B., distinguished veteran of Royal Canadian Navy, who retired as Canadian Senior Flag Officer overseas in January. With his wife and son, Charles, he is holidaying at the Empress Hotel, and will remain in Victoria for the next three weeks.

"But," added Admiral Nelles,
"it depends on government policy. Activity at west coast ports depends on whether or not supplies to the Pacific go by way of the United Kingdom."

He refused to make a prediction about when victory will come in the Pacific, but was optimistic as he referred to present operations near Japan's home islands and recent successes in Burma.

"Any man who makes a prediction is talking through his hat," said Admiral Nelles. "Those little Japs might chuck in their hand in six months. Then, again, it could be three years."

JAP CONSTRUCTION

Asked about the possibilities of Japanese naval construction, he replied that "anyone who thinks the Japanese can outbuild
the United States in ships today is crazy."

"I hope the Canadian navy gets into the Pacific quickly," he continued, "and I look forward to a sizable Canadian naval force operating in the war against Japan."

Admiral Nelles pointed out that by repute the Japanese submarine service is not particularly effective. He said that this would account for the fact that Ottawa has already announced that Canadian ships in the Pacific would be chiefly larger than the corvettes used in fighting the Nazi submarines in the Battle of the Atlantic.

PEACETIME NAVY

As for a permanent Canadian naval force after the war, Admiral Nelles said that "the bigger navy Canada has in peacetime the better." He noted that he hoped personnel would number at least 15,000.

"I can't see any navy after the war that hasn't carriers," he said, "and I look forward to seeing them in Canada's navy in peacetime."

Both Admiral and Mrs. Nelles declined to say where they would settle permanently, although they did admit that they had been "looking at a house in Vancouver."

Asked about rumors concerning their going to Bermuda, Admiral Nelles remarked that his wife comes from there.

"We know it well," he said,
"but we haven't been there for seven years. Lots of things may have changed since then."

He noted that on completion of their holiday in Victoria they will return to Ottawa, but that they do not plan to remain in the capital long.

Most of their stay in Victoria will be spent in looking up old friends made when Admiral Nelles was commanding officer at Esquimalt from 1925 to 1929.
Next Wednesday he will address cadets at the Royal Canadian Naval College at Royal Roads.

Superforts Smash Aircraft Factories In 3 Jap Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aircraft factories in three Japanese cities were blasted by Super-fortresses Tuesday, Japanese time, in a triple attack on the island of Honshu, the 20th U.S.
Air Force reported today.

Clouds obscured the targets,
and the big force of possibly 300
B29s relied chiefly on instrument bombing. However, a column of smoke, 7,000 feet high, was seen over the Tachikawa aircraft works at Tachikawa, 20 miles west of Tokyo.

Other targets of the Marianasbased bombers were the Shizuoka aircraft plant at Shizuoka, 85 miles south of Tokyo, and the Nakajima aircraft plant at Kolzum, 20 miles north of the capital.

One B29 is missing from the raid, the 20th Air Force said, adding little fighter opposition, and only moderate antiaircraft fire was encountered.

8th Army Joins Up With Bridgehead

ROME (AP)—British 8th Army troops have joined up after making landings on both sides of the narrow strip of land separating the Vall di Commachio lagoon from the Adriatic Sea at the extreme eastern end of the Italian front, Allied headquarters announced today.

A number of prisoners have been taken in addition to 200 or more captured in the first day of operation Monday. The link-up and mopping-up operations have virtually cleared out all the area south of the canal running from the shallow lagoon to the Po di Primaro River.

After crossing the mouth of the Po di Primaro, 8th Army units pushed along the north shore, seizing a number of German strongpoints and defensive position and penetrating as far as the vicinity of Lacasina.

Much of the territory north of the canal has been flooded.

2 Cruisers, 2 Plane Carriers, Other Ships Canadian Contribution to War on Japs

OTTAWA (CP)—Possibility Parliament may be given an outline for the force Canada will send to the war in the Pacific was foreseen today in the Commons as debate on the war appropriations continued.

A blueprint of the force the Canadian navy will send to the Pacific was presented Tuesday night by Navy Minister Macdonald and it was expected other defence departments would present their plans when their estimates are reached.

Some believed Prime Minister King might make a statement without delay outlining in general terms the planned disposition of Canadian forces in the Pacific theatre.

Mr. Macdonald, presenting his naval estimates, said Canada would send more than a "mere token force" to the Pacific.

The Canadian cruiser Uganda was already in Pacific waters and she would be joined by a second cruiser, the Ontario, possibly two aircraft carriers and a number of destroyers and frigates.

"I am not able to state publicly the exact number of ships we will send, nor the exact number of men involved, but I can say that the Canadian naval unit in the Pacific, while it will not at all compare in size or strength to the British naval fleet or to the magnificent American Pacific fleet, will, nevertheless, be a good deal more than a mere token force, and it will, I believe, worthily represent Canada in the Pacific war," said Mr. Macdonald.

His department's expenditures for the next five months were estimated at $140,043,500, said Mr. Macdonald, the first minister to present his estimates after Finance Minister Ilsley had presented a resolution calling for authorization to spend $2,000,000,000 on war and mutual aid between now and Sept. 1.

The resolution was adopted on division after a brief discussion on rehabilitation matters and after Wilfrid Lacroix, Ind., Quebec-Montmorency, had said he was opposed to the resolution because most of the $2,000,000,000 would be spent in the war against Japan. He was opposed to any move that would force Canadians to fight in the Japanese theatre.

Ontario Building In Belfast Yard

Canada acquired the Uganda from the British navy while the Ontario is being built at Belfast. Mr. Macdonald said he had inspected the new cruiser on a recent trip overseas and it was in every respect a modern ship.

Naval personnel on the two carriers, which will be sent if arrangements can be made for their acquisition, will be entirely Canadian, while flying personnel will come from the British fleet air arm but will probably include a number of Canadians.

Mr. Macdonald recalled that last autumn when reports of an early end to the war in Europe were prevalent it had been suggested ships should be diverted to the Pacific to gain experience in those waters.

Until the Atlantic campaign was over escort ships could not be diverted to the Pacific, but careful plans had been made in preparation for the time when the Canadian navy could throw its strength into the Pacific war.

Fighting Ship Strength Now 370

Reviewing the year ended March 31, he said fighting ship strength had increased from 250 to 370, auxiliaries from 450 to 550 and personnel from 80,000 to 95,000. In the year the navy lost a destroyer, a frigate, four corvettes, a minesweeper and two torpedo boats. A casualty figure for the year was not available, but Mr. Macdonald said the total for the war period had reached 2,241 on Feb. 28.

Canadian crews scored definitely against nine U-boats and were credited with six probables in the last year. The "wonderful year" had also seen more decorations won—649—than in all previous years of the war.

Mr. Macdonald gave this box score of navy successes since the start of the war:

Submarines destroyed 22; submarines probably destroyed eight; surface vessels sunk 44; surface vessels severely damaged 26; surface vessels captured one.

Mr. Macdonald did not indicate these were his last naval estimates. But it has been widely accepted that the minister does not intend to run in the next federal election. He has been variously reported as going to accept a law partnership in the Montreal firm of Col. J. L. Ralston, his former cabinet colleague; the leadership of the Liberal Party in Nova Scotia, a post he held for many years, and the presidency of Dalhousie University, his alma mater.

Mr. Macdonald declared: "As I present, for the fifth time, the estimates of the Navy Department I look back with pride upon what the officers and men of that service, supported by the Canadian people, have accomplished in 5½ years. The six ships of war have been multiplied 60-fold, the 1,700 men on active service have been increased more than 50-fold... That represents a story of growth and progress that nobody dreamed of in the early days of the war."

The Germans have designed a new breathing device which allows submarines to escape detection more easily, he said. The undersea raiders also have developed higher speeds. They have been concentrating their efforts in coastal waters.

Sees Possibility Of Subs On Coasts

He added: "Under tactics of this kind there is no reason to believe that Canadian coastal waters will be free from these under-water marauders. It may well be that we shall have submarine attacks

Canadian Tanks Advance 36 Hours Without Meeting Any Germans

WITH THE FIRST CANADIAN ARMY IN NORTHERN HOLLAND (CP)—Elements of the 4th Canadian Armored Division moved at top speed Monday and Tuesday.

Deploying northwards Monday morning, the division sped north of Emmerich to clear up an area between the 2nd Canadian Infantry Division on the left and a British division on their right.

The tanks advanced quickly, but the enemy was decamping equally quickly and 4th Division men moved ahead for 36 hours without meeting any Germans.

Divisional and brigade headquarters changed locations as many as five times. Several staff officers of one brigade headquarters were so busy they had their first real meal Tuesday since Sunday night.

The narrow Dutch roads in this sector took a beating as tank regiments in reserve leap-frogged one another, keeping powerful support within easy range of forward Canadian squadrons. Big 10-wheel gasoline trucks were right behind—long convoys of them bearing fuel to the regimental supply echelons.

Trucks bearing Bailey bridging components snaked their way forward, each earmarked for a particular water gap the division intended to hurdle.

The roads were so traffic-laden as the division lifted forward from bound to bound that it required more than three and a half hours to reach brigade headquarters from corps headquarters, and another 90 minutes to reach a forward regiment.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWEY MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
There is no more important development in the war as this is written than news that Marshal Tobukhin's 3rd Ukrainian Army is flinging itself against the outer defence line of Vienna and that the battle for the Austrian capital—Nazism's second largest city—is joined.

This fight for Austria—first country seized by Hitler in his campaign of brigandage—is of vast moment militarily, for it is the back door to Germany and imperils the Fuehrer's scheme for making a final stand in the Alps. But it's more than that. Involved is a political significance—a question of sphere of influence—which will provide a further test of the strength of Big Three unity.

AGREEMENT OF 1943

However that may be, Vienna must be wrested from the Boche. In order to understand the full meaning of this situation we must go back to the Moscow conference of the Big Three foreign ministers in 1943. At that time the basis for co-operation among Russia, Britain and the U.S. in Austria was laid, and it was agreed the independence of this country—an unwilling and helpless victim of aggression—should be restored.

It was further agreed that British and U.S. as well as Russian forces, should participate in the liberation of Austria. And here enters the political aspect. There was a fundamental difference between the political situation expected to develop in Austria and that which exists in the Balkans, where views of Russia on the one hand and the western Allies on the other haven't always coincided.

Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria have been recognized as districts of special Russian interest. Austria, however, has been regarded by the western world as falling outside that category. This presumably accounts for the project of having the military forces of all three big powers co-operate in the liberation of Austria.

SRD AND 7TH SPEEDING

However, the course of events has decreed that the Russians should be the first into Austria. The progress of the western Allied armies makes it possible that the original idea of having all the Allies participate in Austria's liberation may still work out. Elements of the U.S. 3rd and 7th Armies are headed in that direction and may be in time to join in the fray.

Alberta Liquor Act Hours Not Cut

EDMONTON (CP)—Proposal to establish a maximum eight-hour day for Alberta beverage rooms was rejected by the Alberta Legislature in committee of the whole Tuesday. The eight-hour day had been requested by the associated temperance forces.

(The Liquor Control Act provides beer parlors may be open from 7 a.m. until 10 p.m., but wartime regulations call for an eight-hour day, 2 p.m. until 10 p.m.)

Opposition to the eight-hour day was expressed by Wing Cmdr. F. C. Colborne, D.F.C., of Calgary, air force member-at-large; J. M. Popl, S.C., Red Water, and Capt. J. Harper Prowse of Edmonton, Army member-at-large.

The clause amending the Liquor Control Act was withdrawn on motion of Attorney-General Lucien Maynard and this was supported by Mayor Andrew Dawson, Independent, Calgary, who said, "If there had been no war, there would have been no suggestion to reduce the hours to an eight-hour day."

J. C. Landeryou, S.C., Lethbridge, expressed the view that passing of the legislation would not reduce drinking of alcoholic beverages but "would aggravate it," while W. J. Williams, Veterans' Candidate member for Edmonton, said the proposed legislation would mean bootlegging would flourish.

No Date Fixed to End Liquor Restrictions

OTTAWA (CP)—Officials said today that so far no time had been set for the lifting of wartime liquor restrictions.

There has been speculation in the capital that the end of the war in Europe might mean a relaxation in restrictions, but officials said they knew of no date having been set. They added that a number of factors were involved.

Supply—primary reason for most rationing—plays a comparatively minor part in liquor rationing. While distilleries have been converted to the production of industrial alcohol, used largely for war purposes, this has not been regarded as the only reason for the government's action in curtailing the distribution of potable spirits.

Opposition to Speed Estimates Passing

OTTAWA (CP)—Progress in the Pacific war has outrun expectations while victory in Europe is "certain" and "reasonably near," Finance Minister Ilsley said Tuesday afternoon in the Commons as he asked it to vote $2,000,000,000 in a combined interim war appropriation and mutual aid bill to cover the first five months of the 1945-46 fiscal year—April 1-Aug. 31.

From the leaders of three opposition parties, Gordon Graydon of the Progressive Conservatives, M. J. Coldwell of the C.C.F. and John Blackmore of Social Credit, came immediate assurance they would facilitate the passage of appropriations needed to carry on the government over the period of a general election.

Replying to questions from Mr. Graydon, Prime Minister King said the government had received no information to the effect the San Francisco conference scheduled to start April 25 might be postponed.

ALVECHURCH, Worcester-shire — When a councillor suggested the name of "Pestilence Lane" ought to be changed to something more pleasant, the townsfolk objected. "It goes back to the Black Death and we're proud of it," they said—and the name stays.

CLEARING THE AIR

REGARDLESS OF THE VARIOUS interpretations of the "secret" decisions at Yalta, the sudden change in Mr. Roosevelt's attitude toward voting strength in the Assembly of the United Nations, and hints of new disagreements among the "Big Three," it is all to the good that such matters are getting an airing well in advance of the forthcoming World Security Conference at San Francisco. Few who have followed the slow pace which has marked the progress toward precise identity of purpose in the prosecution of the war, and unanimity of resolve for the establishment of machinery to insure permanent peace, expected everything to be sweetness and light at the parley in the Golden Gate city.

Moreover, the liberal publicity already given to the contentious points which engaged the attention of the conferees in the Crimea is a healthy sign. Whether it was intended to keep the details secret or not, the fact remains that they are now public property—with the consent of all parties to them. Thus those who seem to have taken a keen delight in blowing them up to fantastic proportions will be well advised to confine their attentions to the main purpose of the meeting scheduled to begin its deliberations on the 25th of this month. In other words, just as von Rundstedt threw a monkey-wrench into Allied plans on the western front last December, the Nazi commander put his adversaries on their mettle and actually sealed his own and his armies' doom. So have the diplomatic and political incidents of the last few days robbed the Yalta "secrets" of sinister significance.

As we have observed in these columns before, the San Francisco Conference has one specific object—to give form and substance to the skeleton plans drawn up at Dumbarton Oaks last summer for an organization to keep the peace when this global war has become a nightmarish memory. And nothing, either in the short time that will elapse before those proceedings get under way, or during the parley, should interfere with those highly-important efforts. Nor, by the same token, should anybody expect perfection; the world will have to be content with the best that San Francisco is able to produce.

But if at the end of this first general meeting of the United Nations the "Big Three" find themselves more solid in their identity of resolve than ever before—fully appreciative of and recognizing the extremely useful role the smaller or less powerful nations can play in world reconstruction in its manifold aspects—the hope of mankind will be well on the way to realization. For unless the three major powers labor as harmoniously together in the cause of world security as they have fought for the victory over the totalitarian gangsters, all the pious confessions at dozens of conferences will be wasted on the desert air.

BACK TO THE INDIVIDUAL

ONE OF THE REASONS FOR THE rapid disintegration of Germany—apart from the daily jolting from Allied armies—is the planned economy and the complete centralization of control in the Nazi hierarchy in Berlin. The army is dependent on that control functioning in civil life; and units of the army can fight to the last in certain areas only so long as they have supplies at their immediate disposal.

But the civilians themselves will find it difficult to resume those activities which under ordinary circumstances are taken so much for granted. It depends to some extent how long it will take the average German citizen, whose life for some years now has been spent in conforming to Nazi dictates, to emerge from his miasma and begin to function as an individual. Hitler's hope is that the citizen cannot recover from the disease of Nazism. The Fuehrer himself has destroyed the decentralized states of Germany in his Third Reich; but if it is possible to find life in the roots of the states, they may again govern themselves.

Therein lies the greatest hope for Germany; and the German citizen is no fool. He knows the game is up and he has lost. As an individual, he is not lost. On the contrary, as an individual, he has a tradition of high efficiency and fine education combined with a great capacity for hard work.

HONEST ADOLF

HONESTY AND NAZIISM HAVE SO long gone their separate ways that it must have come as a shock to the Allied armies when they found Adolf Honnert of Saarbruecken. For he was the first of all the thousands of German civilians whom the invaders have met who came right out and admitted that he had been a Nazi when being a Nazi was fashionable.

Not only did Honnert confess, but he repented. And in the face of his unusual honesty, that repentance may well have been sincere. We cannot know if there was rejoicing among the angels over Adolf's about-face. But we do know that he got his reward here on earth. The victorious Allies made him acting burgomaster of his home city.

MORE THAN TOKEN FORCE

RANDOM SPECULATION OVER THE part Canada will or will not play in the Pacific war will be considerably circumscribed by last night's announcement by Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, Minister of National Defence for Naval Services. He said that Canada's second cruiser, the Ontario, now being built at Belfast, would be assigned to the Pacific to join the Uganda, already in those waters, and intimated that the Dominion's representation in that theatre would be "more than a token force." He also announced plans to send two aircraft carriers, manned by Canadian personnel—if those vessels can be acquired—as well as several destroyers, and frigates.

Unconfirmed estimates covering other services have placed the number of R.C.A.F. fighter and bomber units destined to that area at from 15 to 20 squadrons, while possible army participation has been suggested at a full division with another in reserve.

At one time the belief was widespread that the United States wished to consider the Pacific War its own private show, acknowledging, of course, the magnificent contribution already made in that theatre by the Australians. The tremendous striking force of the former and the superlative achievements of the latter have been complementary in rolling back the Japanese from their stolen island strongholds, while British and Indian forces, jointly with the Chinese, have been cutting away the Nipponese hold on Burma. Britain has added material support to the sea attack, with notable effectiveness in recent days. The announcement of Canadian plans for participation swells still further the mounting tide rolling in to engulf the island empire—a tide, incidentally, which may reach greater heights with economic and other assistance from those states which have recently declared war against the Axis to win seats at the San Francisco Conference.

TELLING MR. BRACKEN

WHEN HE SPOKE TO THE PEEL County Progressive Conservative Association in annual meeting the other day, Mr. Gordon Graydon, the party's leader in the House of Commons, outlined political strategy which may or may not have pleased Mr. Bracken. After informing his constituents that party policy on postwar employment issues would decide the outcome of the next election, the man who is doing the job in Parliament for which Mr. Bracken was selected by his party nearly two and a half years ago, had this to say:

"I may be called a radical, but let me say that those in or out of the party who think only of yesterday are going to be left with only a yesterday. Private industry should be given its chance to provide full employment. If and when private industry fails, I say that the state must step in and underwrite the prosperity of Canada."

Further to embellish his point, the Progressive Conservative House leader implied that if his party could answer the "universal question": "If we have enough money to keep people employed in war, can't we find the money to keep them employed in peace," it should be able to win the next battle of the ballots. The point Mr. Graydon poses is an attractive one and lends itself to various applications. For the disciples of a "planned economy"—who are always talking about "the general welfare" and the "new freedom"—roll it round their tongues with great glee. Their idea, of course, is what Professor Friedrich A. Hayek describes in his "The Road to Serfdom" as state planning which eventually leaves the planner to do with society what he pleases—and which certainly gives little or no thought to planning for the ultimately regimented individual.

We are not putting the House leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in that category. We merely emphasize his use of the "universal question" in the form he has used it because in the hundreds of speeches his peripatetic chief has delivered since December, 1942, the main theme has been one of yesterday rather than one of tomorrow. And when Mr. Bracken has looked at all into the future he has drawn his inspirational promises from a program already in operation, or from parts of the present government's established policy. In any case, Mr. Graydon, in effect, has served notice on his leader that if he hopes to win the next election on the reinforcements issue, or on his wholly-discredited rifle-throwing charge, he will not, to use the sporting vernacular, get to first base.

SHEER STUPIDITY

MR. J. A. PATON, M.L.A., told a meeting of the Victoria Bracken Club on Monday evening that Canadians should vote for Progressive Conservative candidates at the next election because, among other things, their party stood for loyalty to the British Empire.

Why is it that Conservatives still assume to hold a monopoly on loyalty to the British connection? This assumption formed a goodly part of their political stock-in-trade in the general election campaign five years ago. While Conservative leader Manion and prominent supporters of his cause in all sections of the country were waving the flag with one hand they certainly were not contributing to Empire solidarity when they shook the other fist to emphasize a demand for a 100 per cent increase in the selling price of Canadian wheat to the British consumer. They did this at a time when Britons were terribly worried by their need for more markets to pay war bills; but the "pocket imperialists" were more interested in the farmer's vote than anything else. The great bulk of the Canadian people, however, saw through the old trick and increased the government's former large majority.

How would it be, therefore, if Mr. Paton and his friends were to try to act as sensible adults and refrain from discounting the intelligence of the average Canadian?

Aiding Exports

By GRANT DEXTER

HITHERTO in Canada—with the exception, intermittently, of wheat—export trade has been carried on largely by individual traders. The finding and the developing of markets has been left to individual initiative.

In other countries, prior to the war, government assistance to exports took two forms—the insurance of individual sales abroad and state loans to foreign countries, the proceeds of which were spent in the lending country. The best example of the first is the United Kingdom which, through the Department of Overseas Trade, carried on an insurance business for many years. The latter is best illustrated by the Export-Import Bank of the United States.

In the Export Credits Insurance Act of last session, Parliament adopted both forms of assistance to exports. With respect to insurance, the act provides for a permanent corporation. The Government is in the export insurance business today. With regard to the state lending, the act expires in August, 1947, and is designed only to function in the transition period following the war.

SUBSTANTIAL SUMS of money are involved. The corporation consists of a board of seven directors, including the deputy ministers of finance and trade and commerce and the governor of the Bank of Canada. There is, as well, an advisory council of 15 members, chosen for their knowledge of export business.

For the purpose of carrying on the insurance business, the capital of the corporation, put up by the Government, consists of $5,000,000. In addition, the Government provides a surplus fund of $5,000,000. This makes $10,000,000 in all. The act declares that the corporation shall not incur liabilities under insurance contracts in excess of ten times the capital and surplus. The limit, therefore, is $100,000,000.

It is not anticipated that the corporation will lose money. There is no intention of subsidizing exports. The purpose is to operate a sound insurance business. In the United Kingdom the overseas trade department, with a capital of £60 millions, operated an insurance business for many years prior to 1939, to the undoubted advantage of British exports. The losses were negligible. The British government recently announced that this service is to be revived and expanded as soon as the war is over.

The operations of the corporation do not injure or restrict any private business. Ordinarily, the banks do most of the financing of exports. Insurance, of course, will improve the credit of the exporter who is dealing with a bank. But there are a great many small exporters who, for obvious reasons, have difficulty in obtaining bank credit. In such cases, when the export contract is insured, the banks will lend more freely.

THE LIMIT on the liabilities of the corporation does not mean that its operations must not exceed $100,000,000. The corporation will work in this way: An exporter makes a sale abroad. If the credit of the buyer is doubtful, or if payment is to be made over a period of time, the exporter may desire insurance. He will submit his contract to the corporation. The corporation, in addition to its own sources of information, will have access to the experience and judgment of the banks. The corporation might regard the risk as uninsurable. Or it might accept the risk in total and issue a policy guaranteeing that the exporter will be paid in full. The exporter, of course, will have to pay whatever premium the corporation thought fair. If the risk was great but not decisively so, the corporation could insure part of the contract and expect the exporter to take his chance on the balance. The corporation might agree to insure 70 per cent of the contract or 80 per cent, or maybe 60 per cent.

The broad policy, as stated in the House of Commons, is to require exporters to take a good part of the risk and for this reason the total of business insured in whole or in part will exceed the limitation of $100,000,000. Moreover, export transactions of this kind are fairly short-term. The average contract is cleaned up in a matter of weeks. Therefore, on an annual basis a great volume of export trade can be assisted by the corporation.

THE RESULT will be that many small exporters—and some large ones—will be able to operate more freely and effectively. The availability of insurance will enable them to improve their credit and to take greater risks. Many transactions which would fail because of the risk will be carried through. And while there will be losses here and there the expectation is that, over all, the corporation will make, not lose, money. The advantages of this policy in the postwar world where conditions will be unstable, where new connections will have to be made, are obvious.

The Government lending feature of the act authorizes the Government to lend up to $300,000,000 to foreign countries. The first loan, under the act, was announced on March 2—$15,000,000 to Czechoslovakia. A loan of $25,000,000 to Russia has also been discussed in the financial papers.

Loans of this kind, between governments, are deemed essential in the transition period when, in many of the countries devastated by the war, only governments will be credit worthy. Until reconstruction has gone some distance many of these governments may not permit their citizens to buy abroad.

Both with the insurance and with the loans, the corporation functions as a government agency. It cannot throw business to this person or the next. It is approached by the exporter and, in the case of loans, the foreign borrower will have the spending of the money. Every care has been exercised to guard against favoritism or political influence.

Transport Hub Falls To Allies at Kassel

SECTIONS of General Patton's army, presumably mopping up in Kassel, a city with a population of over 175,000 in peacetime, were in one of Germany's most important transportation hubs and in a position to extend the spreading paralysis which is accompanying the death throes of Hitler's Reich.

The town's command of routes explains its importance in medieval times, its fluctuating political fortunes in the 19th century and its modern development as a railway centre. Prior to disruptive bombing, it had connections with the former manufacturing centres of the Ruhr, with Koblenz, Frankfurt, Muenchen, Leipzig, Dresden and Berlin.

In its own right it boasted major engine-building, railway carriage, scientific instrument and porcelain plants and was commercially active in tobacco and cigar trades as well as in products of iron foundries, jute spinning and other textile plants.

As early as 913 it was known as Cassala. The town passed from the landgraves of Thuringia to those of Hesse in the 13th century and fortifications were restored in the 16th century. Huguenots, welcomed there in the 17th and 18th centuries, founded the upper town which, with the old town, was taken by Germans from the French in 1762 and changed hands frequently in the succeeding century.

Located on the Fulda, a tributary of the Weser, it is crossed by a stone bridge and has river navigation facilities and barges. Narrow and crooked streets, with their gabled houses lent the city a picturesque appearance. Artistically it was noted for museums containing fine samples of the work of Rembrandt, Frans Hals and Van Dyck, and for exceptional collections of clocks and watches. Several of its public buildings are of considerable note.

EVERY DIME HELPS

THE sixth annual "April Shower of Dimes" sponsored by the Solarium Junior League, Victoria, in aid of the crippled children at Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, Vancouver Island, is taking place throughout the month of April. This drive is the league's major project for raising funds and has grown each year with most gratifying results.

The splendid work being done at the Solarium for the sick and crippled children from every part of the province is well known. But what may not be known generally is the fact that the Solarium depends on public subscription for almost half its annual revenue. Thus the "April Shower of Dimes" plays an important part in keeping the needs of the Solarium before the people of British Columbia.

children of British Columbia down through lack of funds to support the only institution where they may be helped back to health and strength.

A dime is a small donation, but many dimes amount to the dollars which are needed to carry on our work for crippled children in need of treatment and medical aid. Please place your dime—or as much as you can spare—in an envelope addressed to the Solarium Junior League, Victoria, British Columbia. Your donation will help some sick youngster back to health.

"FORGOTTEN" VICTORIANS?

Why the discrimination in favor of those who enlisted in Victoria and served with one particular unit overseas when there are thousands of other Victoria enlisted boys in scattered units who are ignored by every organization?

As a Victoria enlisted veteran of the last war, who was forgotten because I did not serve in a unit supposed to be from Victoria, I feel for those Victorians in this war who are receiving the same discriminatory treatment. I further challenge the judgment of our City Council in allowing a tag day for specific units.

Let's remember all, both male and female, who are enlisted for general service in any of the armed forces.

HAVE ANOTHER SLICE!

—to bake bread just right use Fleischmann's fresh Yeast

Serve plenty of bread these days to give your family enough of the energy food they need. Supplying Vitamin B, bread is a quick energy replacer—low in cost. Fine, too, as a streicher for scarcer foods! If you bake at home, use Fleischmann's fresh Yeast—Canada's favorite for over 70 years. You can count on it every baking. Ask your grocer for Fleischmann's fresh Yeast, with the familiar yellow label.

CHARLEMAGNE'S FORT GAVE START TO CITY OF HAMBURG

Several kinds of sausage were named after the cities in which they first became popular. Thus we have bologna, or "bologna," from Bologna, Italy, and wieners from Wien, or Vienna, Austria.

In the same way we have the hamburger from Hamburg, Germany. Sometimes this product is given the dignified name of "Hamburg steak," but it is ground-up meat, the same as sausage, and it might be called "sausage without a casing around it."

One of the Water Fronts of HAMBURG

Hamburgers have become very popular in Canada, where millions are eaten each year. When made from good meat, and well cooked, the hamburger is a healthful food.

The city of Hamburg is the second largest in Germany. In 1939 it had a population of 1,682,000, and was a good deal larger than Munich, the third German city.

The history of Hamburg goes back to the time of Charlemagne. That famous monarch was the ruler of Germany, as well as France, and was, in fact, a German of the Frankish tribe.

In the year 808 Charlemagne ordered a fort to be built in the area where Hamburg grew up. A few years later, a church was built there, along with houses which formed a village. The name of Hamburg seems to have come from the forests, or "Hamm," around it.

Hamburg grew into an important city during the Middle Ages. The people took an important step toward becoming free citizens when they gave money to an emperor who was getting ready for a crusade to capture Jerusalem. The emperor, Frederick I, needed the money badly, and in return for it granted the city a charter. One right in the charter was that Hamburg should have a court of its own.

Before the outbreak of the second World War, Hamburg was a rival of Antwerp, Belgium, for the rank of "greatest port on the mainland of Europe." Yet Hamburg is quite a distance from the seacoast. A boat must go 75 miles up the Elbe River to reach it from the North Sea.

Society Shows Need Of Prison Reform

With almost 60 per cent of criminals in penal institutions either alcoholics or drug addicts, the John Howard Society, founded 100 years ago in England by philanthropist John Howard, and established in Victoria in 1935, has as its object that of helping men and women when released from prison, dissemination of knowledge regarding control of liquor and drug addiction, and public education in reference to prison reform as advocated by the Royal Commission Report on penal institutions of Canada published in 1938.

Too many men, the society believes, when released from confinement are in poor health and mentally maladjusted, and the struggle to make their way in the world proves too much for them, with the consequence many are returned again to penitentiaries.

A great part of prison population, such as alcoholics and drug addicts, according to a report of the society, should never be in prison at all. It was stated that these people should be in institutions where they could be treated scientifically as sufferers from any other ailment are treated, alcoholism, and drug addiction having been recognized only recently as a physical disease.

Dr. E. Bishop, former professor of medicine, New York Medical School, speaking of narcotic addiction, said: "The addict, until arrestation of the disease, needs sufficient daily administration of the drug of his addiction. If the drug is not administered, he cannot be blamed if he is forced into the so-called underworld and illicit channels of supply."

A survey of drug addiction is being conducted with the idea of providing care and treatment for the sufferers and the public is earnestly asked to support the society in the various aspects of its work and to familiarize themselves with the findings of the Royal Commission report concerning Canada's penal establishments.

More than 800 cases of drug addiction were handled by the society here in 1940; since then the number has lessened but it is anticipated that it will again increase after the war.

Funds of the John Howard Society are derived from the Community Chest and Rev. F. Comley is president of the organization with Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell as secretary treasurer and case worker.

World Farm Group Would Aid Production

Setting up of a world federation of farm producers' organizations to discuss mutual problems was suggested here Tuesday by Geoffrey Browne of Dorking, Surrey, head of the economics and statistical department of the National Farmers' Union of England and Wales, who was in the city with the touring British farmers' party.

Mr. Browne said the farmers' mission is interested in seeing a proper production and distribution of the world's primary products so that they may be available for the general well-being.

Through a world federation of agriculturists, information could be exchanged to the mutual advantage of farmers everywhere and would lead to better production, he said.

Why We Offer You This Opportunity

29 years ago a young Canadian druggist who believed that actual use of a good product offered the most convincing proof of its merits, suggested to the United Drug Company, the parent house of Rexall Drug Stores, that instead of advertising, they inaugurate the Rexall 1c Sale. Since that time, this unusual sale has been offered twice a year to REXALL Stores throughout Canada.

Through this sale, money that would otherwise go into press and radio advertising is used to your direct advantage. For the price of one, plus one cent, you receive two regular full-size packages of high quality REXALL merchandise.

In other words—YOU save money—WE gain friends.

Lillian Sanderson Wed in Ladysmith

A double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. S. E. Fleming in Ladysmith United Church this afternoon at 4 united in marriage Lillian Bernice, elder daughter of Mrs. Janet Sanderson, 721 Linden Avenue, and the late Joseph Sanderson, and William McLeod Thornton, elder son of B. A. Thornton, Armstrong, B.C., and the late Mrs. Thornton.

Wearing a beige dressmaker suit with pink accessories and a corsage bouquet of red rosebuds, the bride was given in marriage by Adam Simpson of Ladysmith. Matron of honor was Mrs. R. E. Harris of Victoria, sister of the bride, who wore a green dressmaker suit with a corsage bouquet of spring flowers. Jim Thornton of Vancouver supported his brother.

The wedding party will return to Ladysmith this evening when a reception will be held at the home of the bride's mother, 721 Linden Avenue. Miss Barbara Thornton of Victoria and Mrs. Mat Hassen of Vancouver were bridesmaids to attend the ceremony.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton will leave for Vancouver where they will make their home, the bride donning a rose topcoat over her wedding ensemble.

Appoint Committee

A committee, composed of Mesdames W. C. Nichol, Tyrwhitt Drake, J. E. Mathews and C. E. Peterson, was formed for the Government House garden party, at a meeting of Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E. Miss Marian Pitts presided in the absence of the regent, Mrs. Nichol. The executive will visit Monterey School on St. George's Day, April 23. Mrs. Curtis Sampson, war services convener, reported 27 articles for services, and 23 for bombed areas, costing $44.50, have been sent to Municipal Chapter. Mrs. M. C. Warren Granite Street, was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. G. A. C. Weir was appointed liaison officer to W.P.T.B.

Canada's First Admiral and Family

Renewing old friendships here, Admiral Percy W. Nelles, C.B., and Mrs. Nelles are paying an extended visit to Victoria. They are shown in the Empress Hotel gardens with their son, Charles, who has been employed in a Quebec shipyard and is now convalescing after an illness.

Personal Notes

Miss B. H. Smith of Nanaimo is a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Hahn of Edmonton and Mrs. A. W. Bagnall of St. Catharines, Ont., are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. Ian Douglas of Saanichton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Irwin at the Ritz Apts., Vancouver.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., and Mrs. Pearkes will come to Vancouver Island next week to take up residence in Saanich.

Mrs. George Warren has returned home from Selkirk, Man., where she has been visiting her mother, Mrs. E. Houghton.

Mr. A. D. Gibbins has left for his home in Burlington, Ont., after visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mason, Montelth Street, Oak Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Allison left Tuesday for their home in Calgary, after spending several months visiting at the Empress Hotel.

Lieut. T. W. Birss of Montreal, and his bride, the former Ruth Tuttle, who have been visiting the latter's aunt and uncle Dr. and Mrs. Gordon O. Matthews in Vancouver are spending several days in Victoria prior to returning to their home in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hollands of Fort Frances, Ont., are visiting at the Glenshiel Hotel.

Lieut. and Mrs. G. B. Macleod, who left Victoria to visit the former's mother Mrs. Ida J. Macleod in Winnipeg, have now gone to Ottawa where they will take up residence.

Lieutenant-Governor Albert Matthews of Ontario and Mrs. Matthews, who will come to Victoria Thursday to visit at the Empress Hotel, were guests at Vancouver where His Honor's sister, Mrs. Newton Wolvorth and her two daughters, entertained at dinner Tuesday. Tonight, in Vancouver, they will attend a dinner for Dr. Norman McKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia and Mrs. MacKenzie.

Margaret Gladys Amanda, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Newberry, 1936 Forrester Street, was christened Easter Sunday at the Grace English Lutheran Church by Rev. Theo A. Jansen. Godparents were Mrs. H. McKenzie, Mrs. Bryan Guy, Seattle, and Mr. Hugh McKenzie. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Newberry entertained relatives at their home, where the christening cake in the form of a basket centred the tea table.

A shower honoring Miss Nedra Mitchell, whose marriage will take place this month, was held at the home of Mrs. H. Burton, 1318 Ivy Place. The guests included Mesdames E. E. Mitchell, T. Berry, E. W. Merriman, J. Barnes, R. Lott, T. Sherwood, H. R. Lecky, R. A. Lecky, W. Harrison, L. Duncan and Misses Eleanor Briggs and Betty Mitchell. Also attending were Mesdames J. Mitchell, P. Brethour, L. McKenzie and Misses Doreen Mitchell and Dorothy Brethour, all of Sidney.

Miss Marjorie Carter, 244 Fenn Road, entertained at the tea hour today honoring Miss Faye Smith, April bride-elect. During the afternoon the guest of honor was presented with a gift and a corsage bouquet. Misses Dorothy Shaw and Amy Harness presided at the tea table, and Mrs. Stewart Carter welcomed the guests, who included Mesdames Albert Farley, J. Wallace, W. Marshall and Misses Tony Watson, Connie Sullivan, Mildred Graham, Elizabeth Angus, Betty Lindsay and Mary Sidley.

Nurses and Aides Needed at Solarium

Miss Dorothy Andrew, lady superintendent at Queen Alexandra Solarium, today made an appeal for nurses for the Mill Bay institution. One registered nurse for permanent duty is required and also two girls between the ages of 18 and 24 with at least two years' high school are needed to train as nurses' aides.

"We would like to have young girls on the staff who are interested in the work with crippled children," Miss Andrew said, "the Solarium is filled to capacity and this is a tax on even a complete staff."

Anyone wishing to apply should phone the Solarium office, E 4821.

Woodwork Display By Kiwanis O.K. Club

Highlight of the luncheon meeting held Tuesday at the Empress Hotel was the interesting display of woodwork turned out by the 35 members of the Kiwanis O.K. Club, sponsored by the boys' work committee of the club.

Exhibits included table lamps, magazine stands, end tables and standing ash trays, and the young club members who made the articles are from 10 to 14 years of age. Constructed from the boys' own designs under the direction of Ted Pope and two assistants, V. Patterson and R.

Donaghy, the class met each Thursday night since Christmas at the Y.M.C.A.

Appreciation of the work on display was voiced by the boys' work committee chairman, E. D. LeLacheur.

Speaker at the meeting was Harold A. Munson, business manager of Rest Haven, Sidney, who recalled experience encountered during camping and hunting in Vermont. A member of the International Lairs' Club, M. Munson, related some of the "taller" stories he had heard in his travels.

The boys' woodwork display will be shown in the windows of Paint Supply Co. Ltd. for one week.

Birthday Banquet

Victoria Chapter 25 of the Women of the Moose held their 24th birthday banquet at Terry's, when several guests from Vancouver were present. Following the banquet a meeting was held at the K. of P. Hall. A. R. Pegg presented the chapter with a miniature carved cradle for the endowment fund for children at Mooseheart. Those who took part in the program were: Misses Joan Smythe, K. Steele, Messrs. F. Rodwell, Jock Elliott, D. McFarlane, J. Elliott and Mrs. K. Pegg. Governor George Hockley and graduate regent D. Fairhurst did a comedy skit. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Walsh. Pilgrim Elizabeth Deane will visit the chapter April 9, at 7.15. There will be an initiation. Talent money should be in, and reports given. Arrangements are being made for a bazaar to be held, when Mrs. M. Benthall will be in charge of prizes.

Dorothy Dix

MERCENARY WIFE UNREASONABLE

Dear Miss Dix: My husband has paid a government income tax this year of over $3,500. I don't know how much money he makes. He says he doesn't know and that it may turn out that he hasn't made anything this year. Does this make sense? He pays all of our household bills and expenses, but all that he has given me for spending money a year is a little over $1,000. He is so mean and stingy that he won't spend money even on himself. Says he has to leave the money in his business to keep it going. I have a small separate income of my own which was left me by my father ten years ago. I have never spent a cent of this and don't see why I should.

If I should get a divorce from my husband, would the court compel him to give me a share of his business and pay me a sensible income?

DIGESTED.

Answer: I would think your husband would be the one to be disgusted in a marriage like yours, for you seem to regard him as nothing but a meal ticket, and it must be pretty discouraging to a man to work hard to support a wife who has no interest in him except for the money he brings in.

NOT VERSED

Evidently you know little of business if you are not aware that in these war times, when everything is so uncertain and taxes are so high, that no man really does know just how he stands financially, nor whether he has made any profit or not on his year's work. Also you would know, if you had ever been in business, that a man can't turn over every cent he makes to a greedy wife. He has to plow it back into the business if he would keep it a going concern.

So, inasmuch as you are only interested in what your husband makes, I think you would be very silly to divorce him. In the first place, he gives you a $1,000 allowance for spending money. And, in the second place, you would find it a hard task to get another husband who wouldn't think that you should spend some of your own income on yourself. Instead of holding him up for more.

Air Cadet Ball

Two hundred guests attended the second annual Air Cadet Ball held Tuesday evening in the Crystal Garden.

The Air Cadet Committee of Greater Victoria held the formal ball for Air Cadets from the following five squadrons: No. 83, Oak Bay High School; No. 89, Victoria High School; No. 90, Esquimalt High School; No. 91, Mount View High School; and No. 183, Mount Douglas High School, and their invited guests. Other Air, Army and Sea Cadets were invited.

Guests included Sqdn. Ldr. and Mrs. E. G. Symonds, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hartness, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gough, Lt. and Mrs. N. Simister, Miss Francine Simister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mr. Don Harvey, Flt. Lt. J. White, O.C. of the Cadet Squadrons; Flt. Lt. J. Wallace, F.O. and Mrs. J. Fouracre, F.O. and Mrs. J. McKenzie, F.O. L. J. Clark, F.O. G. Paterson and P.O. and Mrs. C. Chatfield.

Piano Team Plays Brilliant Program

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Chosen from a wide and brilliant repertoire, the duo-piano program given by Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff at the Royal Victoria Theatre, Tuesday night, was enthusiastically received.

Quiet and unassuming in manner, the two artists produced thunderous salvos of sound and tossed off scintillating, intricate streams of notes with an ease that appeared almost casual. Throughout they were the ideal, the perfect team; one in thought and feeling, in physical timing and co-ordination. At moments, such as the Adagio movement in the majestic Vivaldi-Bach "Concerto in A minor," the sharing of each other's mood and intention was as complete as the utterance of one instrument at the hands of either artist could possibly have been.

Their absolute precision and technique leaned toward mechanical only in the Chopin "Rondo," which in itself is purely a show piece. One of the truly great moments of the evening was attained with the playing of the beautiful Schumann "Andante and Variations," which was so full of light and shade agitation and tranquility, that it was like walking through woods on an April day.

PLAYS OWN ADAPTATIONS

Mr. Luboshutz has made a number of brilliant two-piano adaptations and included a group of these in the program. Moussorgsky's "Crownation Scene" from "Boris Goudenoff" was rich and striking in the chordal arrangement, suggesting hundreds of bells tolling and chiming together. "The Lark (Glinka)," opens with an ephemeral, melodic theme that was played with beautiful singing quality of tone, and is laced with an embroidery of rippling runs that were performed with a fragility that was in marked contrast to the peasant gait of the Shostakovich "Polka," and the ponderous rhythm of the Stravinsky "Russian Dance."

A clever, humorous arrangement of "Largo al Factotum," from "The Barber of Seville," was popular among the several en-

By PETE SALLAWAY

RECENT senior men's basketball series between Victoria Kins and Vancouver Lauries enabled me to renew acquaintance with my old friend Walter Hardwicke, long prominent in British Columbia hoop circles. It was the first time we had met since the days of the famous Victoria-Vancouver feuds when Blue Ribbons and later Dominos were battling for the province's number one cage honors against Varsity and Westerns. Hardwicke at that time was secretary of the B.C. association and his verbal battles with Victoria officials were the subject of much publicity. Immediately I contacted Hardwicke he came up with the question: "Where's Dave Nicol?" He went on to remark that what the game needed was some more of that bitter Victoria-Vancouver rivalry. "When Dave and I were at each other's throats the newspaper boys used to tell everybody about it, with the result basketball got a lot of valuable publicity. It all helped to bring about those sellout crowds."

I QUESTIONED Hardwicke on just what had happened to basketball in Vancouver this season and to what he attributed the game's lack of support. "Well, in the first place, as you know, the senior teams lost V.A.C. Gym, and that robbed them of their number one playing court," he said. "Then the league officials are to blame for not bringing up more of the younger players to fill the depleted ranks of the senior clubs. They have been trying to carry on senior basketball with too many old-timers. The clubs are new blood and for that reason I am tickled to death to see this series arranged between the Kins and Lauries. It will give some of the senior B and intermediate A players a chance to experience first-class competition."

BYRON NELSON'S record-breaking 65 to clinch the Durham open golf tournament Sunday, brings to mind the fact that the winter's leading money-winner has checked in with some phenomenal rounds in championship play. In stepping up his game by slightly more than a stroke a round over what it was a year ago, Nelson averaged 68.43 for 48 rounds. Since Jan. 1 he has had a 63, five 65s, seven 66s, five 67s, nine 68s and nine 69s. Nelson, for several years considered the finest shotmaker from tee to green, sets a record for practically every course he plays. Sammy Snead may have a better natural swing, but Nelson is a perfectionist with the superior competitive temperament. Par three holes are largely responsible for Nelson's sensational rounds. So accurate is he with a wood or iron he practically knocks out the pin on holes measuring 250 yards or under. He is perhaps the straightest driver and longest iron player in the history of the game.

NELSON is unusual as a professional because he emerged from the ranks of white collar workers. He caddied briefly and played competitively as an amateur before joining the pro ranks. He started by playing week-ends, practiced evenings while working in the auditing department of a railroad and for the publisher of a Fort Worth magazine. Nelson has always preferred iron to woods and traces this to the fact that he didn't have the money to hire a caddy to chase balls. He had to do it himself, so concentrated on the shorter irons.

Baseball Gossip

Pittsburgh Takes Jolt

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1945 pennant hopes of Pittsburgh Pirates, who finished second in the National League last season, were jolted Tuesday. Catcher Hank Camelli was ordered up for induction April 13 while third baseman Bob Elliott and south-paw Fred Ostermuller may also be called.

Other training camp items: St. Louis Cardinals — Pitcher Jack Creel, of Columbus, drew praise from manager Billy Southworth.

St. Louis Browns — Gene Moore, whose pinch-hitting proved valuable last year, got into first game and hit a double in two attempts.

Boston Red Sox — Jim Wilson and Red Barrett were nominated to pitch against Yankees today.

Boston Braves — Rookie Dick Culler seems to have beaten out Whitely Wietelmann for shortstop.

Chicago White Sox — South-paw Thornton Lee, out with a cold, will miss Detroit game today.

Chicago Cubs — Slugger Bill Nicholson, working at war plant in Chestertown, Md., said would report on opening day.

New York Giants — Infielder Hugh Luby notified team he would take pre-induction physical examination in Oakland, Calif., Thursday.

Cleveland Indians — Jim McDonnell was nominated to catch Alie Reynolds in opening game against White Sox in Cleveland April 17.

Washington Senators — Dutch Leonard and Mickey Haefner, bearing down for first time, shut out Norfolk naval team.

Philadelphia Phillies — South-paw Ken Raffensberger pitched complete nine innings in blanking Bainbridge naval team, 3 to 0 on four hits.

Brooklyn Dodgers — Ben Chapman was named to start against West Point Cadets in exhibition game today.

New York Yankees — Dick Eiten, first sacker, got his first hit of year, an eighth-inning single against Boston Red Sox.

Higbies Capture B.C. Cage Title With Easy Triumph

VERNON (CP)—Taking hold of a first quarter lead, coupled with an eight-point scoring margin from Monday night's opening game, Higbies of Vancouver rolled to a decisive 66 to 37 victory over Nick's Aces of Vernon, Sunday night, to take the two-game total-point series by a 122 to 85 score, and win the B.C. intermediate A basketball title.

With Gordie Sykes opening up with a four-basket scoring spree Higbies moved along to an 18 to 7 scoring margin in the opening quarter. Sykes tallied 14 points in the game to share top scoring honors with relief pivot Gordie Lynn, who worked in alternately in the quarters and led his team's scoring whenever on the floor. Both players ranging in height over six feet tall, loomed shot after shot into the Aces' hoop with the remainder of the line-up working in the plays.

Coach Ted Milton worked both Sykes and Lynn in during the last five minutes of play to show the 500 fans what the two towers of steel could do on the floor at one time. The coast hoopers restricted their play to passing, being satisfied with the 37-point lead in the last moments of play.

DEFINITE MARGIN

Aces never came within close range after Higbies torpedoned them in the first quarter. Higbies went up four more points in the second quarter, and 14 to 11 in the third quarter, followed by another deadly attack in the final quarter which saw Higbies out-score Aces by another nine points.

Hal Malone and Bob Burtwell were next in line for scoring laurels, each finding the hoop for eight points. Len Letham, Reid Mitchell, Dan Holden counted six points each and George Hake, four.

Aces, who managed in spurts to get through Higbies' defensive line, fought to the last minute of play. Bill Koshman and Otto Munk, who have consistently been their scoring power through out the season, led again, but were held well in check by the Vancouver team. Koshman scored 11 points, with Munk getting nine. Guard Ellis Lindsay counted seven; Dennis McMaster and Ed Joe three each; Al Munk and Ron Ikeda two each.

Cup Soccer Match Scheduled Saturday

Footballers will hold forth at Macdonald Park Saturday when Victoria West and Navy meet in the semi-final round of the annual Solarium Cup series. Play will get started at 3.

Victor will go into the final against the V.M.D. present holders and recent winners of the lower island championship. In preparation for Saturday the Wests will hold a practice session at the Athletic Park tonight, starting at 6.30. All players are asked to attend.

Former Grad Stars Help Edmonton Win

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Army and Navy Pats Tuesday night defeated Winnipeg Pegs 61 to 18 in the second game of a best-of-three women's senior basketball series. The Edmonton club which won the first game 32 to 16 Monday night now meet Vancouver Hedunds in the western Canada finals.

Noel Macdonald Robertson, picked as the all-time all-star in Edmonton Grad clubs, paced the winners with 13 points. Peggy Colville scored one less, while Etta Dann, all-star guard on the famous Grad team, scored 10. Eleanor Wallins was high scorer for Pegs with 6 points. Natalie Kelsey 5, Julie Matoski 4, Lenora Cuthbert 2, and Sylvia Ferris with 1 were the other Peg scorers.

Cote in Training For Big Marathon Race in Britain

By ALLAN NICKLESON
LONDON (CP)—Wee Gerard Cote, his training grounds the winding lanes of southern England, will compete for the British marathon championships next June, if his duties as a Canadian Army sergeant allow.

Three times winner of the Boston Marathon, Cote, who hails from St. Hyacinthe, Que., arrived in England a couple of months ago and since then has jogged 20 miles daily to keep in form. He probably will compete in a couple of smaller events before starting the championship grind, to be run over a course near London.

Cote told Charlie Daoust, army public relations lieutenant, who formerly wrote sport around Ottawa, that until he reached England he had done no running since last September.

"Of course I won't allow the sport to interfere with my army job, but I'll try to win the British championship if I don't get a chance to chase the Germans," Cote said.

The French-Canadian footslogger is attached to an infantry reinforcement centre. His wife and two children live in Montreal. "Several of my friends have urged me to ask permission to fly the Atlantic and defend my title at Boston in April," Cote told Daoust. "But even if it were possible it would be a bit stupid to take part in two marathons, one on each side of the ocean in less than two months."

JOE GAGNON WINS

Another little French-Canadian became the only Canadian Army officer boxing as a professional in Britain when Lieut. Joe Gagnon of Montreal made a successful debut into moneyed ranks. The former Canadian amateur bantamweight champion and Empire Games finalist forced Johnny Mack, a London trial horse, to retire at the end of the fifth round of a scheduled six-round bout at London's Queensbury Club.

Gagnon, looking more like a kid of 16 than a veteran campaigner of 26, forced the pace from the start and was far from the puzzled battler who lost out in the Canadian Army (England) featherweight final to an orthodox unknown at Aldershot a few nights previously. Against Mack, Gagnon scored readily and showed a heavy punch. Mack took so much punishment that his seconds signalled he was through with one round to go.

Toronto St. Mikes Favored Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—The odds favors St. Michael's Majors for tonight's third game of the best-of-seven eastern Canada junior hockey finals with Montreal Junior Royals. The series is tied 1 to 1.

Royals built up considerable support here when they humbled the powerful Irish 3 to 1 in the first game Saturday. But St. Mikes came back from that defeat to record a decisive 7 to 1 verdict in the second game Monday.

So the Montrealers enter tonight's game on the short end of five-to-three odds. But they're not too impressed. They figure if they can stop one or two of the tricky St. Michaels forwards, particularly high-scoring Leo Gravelle from Aymer, Que., who accounted for three goals Monday, they won't fare too badly. Coach Lorne White of Royals said he is looking for a better performance from his smooth-skating forward division as well as the defence. He plans no

Moose Jaw Loses Record Hopes

Monarchs Winners 5-4

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Monarchs, with a warning, "We've got their number now," today were in the thick of the fight with Moose Jaw Canucks for western Canada junior hockey honors.

Coming from behind a three-goal deficit and capitalizing on three Canuck penalties, the Manitoba champions last night edged out a 5 to 4 victory in the third contest of the best-of-seven finals after dropping the first two games 6 to 4 and 6 to 2 at Moose Jaw last week. Fourth game will be here Thursday night.

Coach Art Barnet, tickled with the offensive unleashed by his charges, said Monarchs are confident of ultimate victory. "They looked more like the team they were at the start of the season," he said.

Coach Roy Bentley of the Canucks attributed his aggregation's downfall to penalties. The Manitoba champions fired three of their tallies while Moose Jaw performers sat on the bench.

ROBERTSON STARS

Playing an important part in the Monarch success was tall George Robertson, smooth-skating centre. He blasted home a goal and provided assists for two others.

Other Monarch marksmen were red-headed defenceman Don McRae and forwards Hy Beatty, Walter Hergeshelmer and Clint Albright.

Metro Prystal tallied for Canucks along with Clarence Marquess, Frank Ashforth and Lou Hauk.

Canucks had a 3 to 1 lead at the end of the first period, but Monarchs tied the count at 3 to 3 by the end of the second.

Both teams came out of the struggle unscathed.

The loss was the first suffered by the Saskatchewan champions since the playoffs started. Canucks had drawn level with 13-game playoff victory string of Portage la Prairie Terriers in 1942 last Saturday and lost their hope of posting a western record.

Seattle, Portland Remain in Deadlock

The potent Pacific Northwest teams—Seattle and Portland—remained in a tie for the lead of the Coast Baseball League today after sweeping a split week's series in California cities.

Seattle, picked as the league's main 1945 threat, gets its first real test today, against Los Angeles, the pennant holder. The Rainiers have an easy time of disposing of the San Diego Padres, 10 to 3, last night to take the series, 4 to 1.

Portland likewise had little trouble with Oakland, which fumbled to an 8 to 4 defeat last night to drop the series, 4 to 1. It will be a trade of opponents today in the first games of the second section of the split week.

San Francisco's Seals, edged out 7 to 6 by the Angels yesterday, moved to San Diego. Portland goes up against Sacramento, which blasted the Hollywood Stars in the seventh inning last night to win, 4 to 2.

Changes in the lineup from Monday. Coach Joe Primeau of Majors also plans to stick to his Monday's lineup and was confident of victory.

Liscombe Brilliant In Detroit Victory

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Red Wings, gaining the Stanley Cup finals for the second time since 1942 on a brilliant four-goal performance by veteran Carl Liscombe last night, meet Toronto Maple Leafs here Friday in the first battle for the Venerable Trophy.

Liscombe's feat, which knocked Boston Bruins out of the cup chase 5 to 3 before 14,508 fans, largest crowd ever to see a National Hockey League playoff in Detroit, proved a key to the speedy play of his teammates and some neat goal-tending by 18-year-old Harry Lumley.

In the cup finals, the Wings meet a team from which they won eight games in 10 contests during the season, losing one and tying the other. Any tendency toward over-confidence, however, should be swept away by the facility with which the Leafs eliminated the champion Montreal Canadiens in their playoff series. Detroit beat the Canadiens only once in the entire season.

TIE UP BIG LINE

Detroit eliminated Bruins last night in the seventh game of their semifinal series by turning back the attack launched by the Bill Cowley-Herb Cain-Bill Jennings line, which had accounted for six of Boston's seven goals in the last two games. This line found the Detroit net only once, when Cain scored on Cowley's pass in the second period.

Although they were outshooting the Bruins, the Wings entered the third period trailing 3 to 2, due to some good goal-tending by Boston's Paul Bibault. From the start of the period the Wings were clicking, and Eddie Bruneteau set the stage for Liscombe's two clinchers by splitting Pat Egan and Jack Crawford on a fast solo for a neat goal after two minutes of play.

After the second game of the finals here Sunday, the teams move to Toronto for the third and fourth contests, April 12 and 14. If necessary, other games in the eight-point series will be played April 19 at Detroit, April 21 at Toronto and April 22 at Detroit.

"Practice" Drudgery A Thing of the Past

A child with musical talent should be given every possible encouragement. Even those who show no marked love of music should be given the opportunity to play some sort of musical instrument.

And by new and proven methods "learning to play" need no longer be the drudgery it once was. At Fletcher's we can explain and show you new methods, new teaching material, new ideas in Musical Education that have made children eager to learn and quick to excel. Let's talk it over.

British Surgeon Backs Once-a-Month Drunks
LONDON (AP) — Dr. Josiah Oldfield, British surgeon, writing in the current Medical Press and Circular, says "I see no reason at all from the medical point of view why a man should not get roaring drunk once a month."
He said he had no "fault to find with the medical profession for pandering; with certain limits, to human pleasures and human sensations of delight."

Seeks to Release Men for B.C. Mines

Release of technical men and enough mine labor to get B.C. gold mines in shape for postwar operation will be urged by Hon. E. C. Carson, B.C. Minister of Mines, who will attend an inter-provincial mining conference at Quebec next week-end.

The minister said there is a serious lack of technical mining men here now.

They are needed for planning new development and crews are required to get properties ready for operation.

The minister will fly east April 12 for opening of the conference April 14.

Briefs on postwar mining prospects in B.C. gathered by a special committee in Vancouver will be presented to the conference.

Brake-Testing Drive Starts Here April 15

British Columbia will have a brake-testing campaign for cars between April 15 and June 1, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons of provincial police, announced today.

This is part of a continent-wide drive to check the safety of cars that have been on the road longer than they would normally be due to wartime conditions.

Commissioner Parsons has been named provincial co-ordinator of the campaign, with Chief J. A. McEwan of Victoria and Chief Donald MacKay of Vancouver as assistant co-ordinators.

Arrangements for testing brakes will be made in Victoria and Vancouver, and by provincial police in outlying districts.

The aim is not to secure prosecutions for faulty brakes, but to draw car owners' attention to faults and have them remedied as a safety measure for the general public, Commissioner Parsons explained.

Yanks Push Swiftly On Okinawa Capital

GUAM (AP) — Twin U.S. drives today moved swiftly southward toward Naha, capital of Okinawa, and perhaps also the first major resistance by the Japanese defenders since the invaders landed four days ago.

Air observers reported occasional bursts of Japanese fire as well as signs of an elaborate trench system bustling with activity across the southern end of the island near Naha.

Report Germans Moved to West

NEW YORK — The Luxembourg radio said today the U.S. 9th Army had identified elements of German divisions which had been switched from the eastern front to the west to meet the swift Allied drive.

"These included the S.S. Panzer Division, which arrived in the west without tanks," the broadcast said.

Thanks for Egg

NANAIMO (CP) — Several months ago Rita Henley wrote her name and address on one of the eggs she was packing for overseas. She has received a "thank-you note" from a woman in England.

"I'm writing to say 'thanks a million' for supplying my ration for a month," wrote Margaret Brister of Monton, Eccles, near Manchester. "I have often wondered if you Canadians realize how much we appreciate your produce over here — hope you didn't mind me writing you, but it was such a good opportunity of saying 'thanks'."

War Career 1 Day

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN NORTHERN HOLLAND (CP) — This was the fighting career of a Volkssturm soldier who met the Canadians along the Twente Canal.

He left his civilian job at noon to join the Volkssturm. At 2 p.m. he was with his unit on the way to the canal front.

Next morning he was in a Canadian prisoner of war cage and most indignant about the length of current German army training.

Do Not Patronize Graveyard, Labor Urged

VANCOUVER (CP) — The International Hodcarriers' Building and Common Laborers' Union of America has asked the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council to put Ocean View Cemetery on the "unfair list."

The request was made through William James, secretary of the Vancouver local. He did not give any reason. The matter was referred to the grievance committee.

"In the meantime don't patronize it," commented Elt Showler, council president.

Safe Stolen, $1200 Missing

Documents valued at approximately $1,200 were stolen from a safe taken overnight from Peacey's Drug Store, 202 Menzies Street, and later found in Lovers' Lane, Beacon Hill Park. City police, who found the safe, brought back to the station $995 in war savings certificates, $259 worth of cheques and $11.20 in postal notes which the thieves had left scattered around the safe.

Police report entry was made into the drug store by means of breaking two panes and a bar over a window in the premises. All that was taken from the drug store was a safe which police believe was carried to the park in a car reported stolen overnight by J. McReady, Devonshire Apartments, Soldier's overalls, other clothing and a number of tools and keys which had been in Mr. McReady's car when he left it parked in the Douglas Hotel parking lot, were found scattered around Lovers' Lane.

Const. D. Blackstock, who discovered the safe in the park, reported it had been opened by means of breaking off the dial and punching the tumblers.

The detective department is continuing investigation under Detective-Inspector John Rogers.

Commerce Chamber Chooses Directors

New Chamber of Commerce directors announced Tuesday evening following a ballot are Leslie B. Bigg, G. H. Harman, F. A. E. Manning, Walter Miles, Harold Diggon, W. Allan Penderay, W. T. Straith and Archie Willis and Reeve W. L. Woodhouse.

They will serve with nine others chosen last year who have another year on the directorate. They are James H. Beatty, William J. Clark, Major H. C. Holmes, Harold Husband, J. V. Johnson, Capt. R. W. McMurray, Logan Mayhew, H. J. Penderay, J. Harold Wilson.

Board of arbitration members chosen were F. A. E. Manning, W. Allan Penderay, Archie Willis, Harold M. Diggon, W. T. Straith, Reeve W. L. Woodhouse.

First meeting of the new board will be at the Chamber of Commerce, Monday at 4. President, vice-president and treasurer will be elected.

Tourist Camp Men Consider New Law

The new tourist camps regulation act passed at the recent session of the B.C. Legislature will be main subject of discussion at a meeting of resort and tourist camp owners in Kamloops Thursday and Friday.

Regulations which will be passed in accordance with the act will be considered, said Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Trade and Industry, who is administering the act and will attend the meeting.

The act provides the broad outline of control and detailed regulations will be enacted by order-in-council. Views of the tourist resort operators on these regulations is being sought.

Grading of resorts, on the basis of the accommodation and service they can provide, is the main object of the scheme. Tourists will then have an advance idea for what they are paying. It is part of a general scheme to put the tourist industry on a sound basis in preparation for the anticipated postwar rush, Mr. Carson said.

Salvage Director Says Paper Supply Low

Mills across Canada that consume paper have only a seven-day advance supply according to a letter received by A. H. Pease, Salvage Corps director, from the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company.

Urging the Salvage Corps to collect more paper, the letter says: "If there is anything at all you can do to stimulate interest in this salvage effort it will be appreciated by this company and will be a national service of utmost value."

Mr. Pease said that in addition to paper the Salvage Corps wants bottles, rags and nearly every form of salvage except rubber.

To Give Veterans From Overseas Shelter Priority

Veterans returning from overseas and obtaining their discharge from any of the three services will be given every assistance in obtaining housing accommodation in Victoria, D. K. Kennedy, emergency shelter administrator for the area, said this morning.

The policy of the administration since its inception Feb. 15, has been to grant permits and authorization to seek and obtain accommodation to veterans from this area who are returning from overseas service. Also, the same consideration has been given to men who, following their enlistment in the Air Force, Army or Navy, married a Victoria girl, and who wish to establish themselves here after discharge and having served overseas.

This will now be extended to any man with overseas service who on discharge and in the process of rehabilitation is provided with employment here although it may not be his home municipality, Mr. Kennedy said.

There is a fourth class of discharged servicemen about which the policy has not yet been set, and this includes the man who has not obtained definite employment but decides he would like to live here and comes to the congested area to seek employment.

Mr. Kennedy said that his recommendation about this man would be to refuse him family accommodation until such time as he had obtained employment and then he would come in the third class and be eligible for a permit and authorization.

The shelter administration is hoping that the public and veterans' organizations in particular will give every assistance in helping to find accommodation for such discharged veterans with overseas service.

Teacher 'Freezing' Order To Be Lifted

Teachers are to be released from the order "freezing" them to their jobs.

Education Minister H. G. Perry has received word from Ottawa indicating the order will be lifted before the beginning of the new school year in September.

Under the regulation teachers could only leave their jobs to join the armed services or engage in farming.

Mr. Perry said no difficulty is anticipated in maintaining teaching staffs when the freeze is lifted. Decline in war industries and releases from the services should take up the slack, even if some of the present teachers wish to leave.

Approximately 20 rural schools in B.C. are closed through lack of teachers at the present time. Most of the children are accommodated at nearby schools, or taking correspondence courses.

Court Remands Charge Against Dr. Stewart

Dr. W. W. Stewart, remanded today in city police court on a charge of "unlawfully killing and slaying Esmond Dinsdale," was given a further remand to April 11 at the request of Gordon Cameron, defence counsel, who asked that the case be put over until the return of Magistrate H. C. Hall to the bench.

Annual general meeting of the 88th Battalion, C.E.F., will be held in the board room of the Army and Navy Veterans Thursday at 8.

Director-General Inspects Reserve Units

Maj. Gen. F. R. Phelan, D.S.O., M.C., V.D., director-general of the Reserve Army, inspected units — Tuesday night — at Bas Street Armories. Units reviewed were the 3rd (R) Bn. Canadian Scottish Regiment (M.G.), 13th (R) Field Ambulance, R.C.A.M.C., and the Veterans Guard of Canada, (R). At 8.15 tonight, the director-general will inspect the 203rd (R) A.A. Battery, R.C.A., and No. 1 (R) Fortress Workshop R.C.E.M.E.

Maj. Gen. Phelan chatted with members of the Veterans Guard and talked with Pte. George Tyson of that unit. Pte. Tyson was an officer with the 7th Bn. during the last war and won the M.C. and Bar.

Officers present at the inspection were Col. A. W. Sparling, D.S.O., Lt. Col. I. L. Ibbotson, V.D., and unit officers Lt. Col. Brooke — Stephenson, Maj. R. Crombie, Lt. Col. A. B. Nash and Maj. J. R. McIlree.

Services Arranged For Prison Sunday

Officers, bands and songsters of the Salvation Army will hold services Sunday in every penitentiary, reformatory and jail in Canada, Newfoundland and Bermuda, in observance of Prison Sunday, and in Victoria the Salvation Army magazine will be distributed among those in the city jail, and a service will be held at Colquitz Mental Home.

Maj. H. J. Martin, social service superintendent, will speak at the Colquitz service, while Army workers will take copies of the War Cry to the jail.

Last year 97,461 prisoners attended these services, and Commissioner Benjamin Ormance has stated "long experience in work among men and women behind bars has taught us that the lost can be found; that which was crooked can be made straight."

"The Salvation Army is essentially a fighting force, and has ever set its face against a peculiar pessimism which manifests itself whenever prisons and prisoners are mentioned," he said. "This fighting army cannot instruct its buglers to sound the 'cease fire' while there are thousands whose brain and brawn, rightly directed, can be used for the building of a better world."

According to headquarters of office of the Army at Toronto, 737 boys and girls, between 15 and 19, were committed to jails and reformatories, and 952 between 20 and 30.

Co-operation Keynotes Clean-Up and Paint Drive

Starting Monday last, the annual Clean-up Paint-up Week, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce under the direction of chairman George A. Beck, is rapidly reaching its peak as citizens of the city and adjoining municipalities join in wholehearted efforts to make Victoria a cleaner, brighter city as advocated by Mayor Percy George, civic officials and the committee.

Mayor George stated, regarding the drive: "I trust that this week will not be regarded as just another campaign, but that it will serve to consolidate the already good intentions of citizens who can be justly proud of the city they have helped through the years to live up to its name, Victoria, the Garden City." He asks that those who have not already done so, get behind the Junior Chamber drive by painting and cleaning-up their properties.

Main object of the campaign is not only to beautify the city and help raise health standards by ensuring cleanliness, but also to free basements and vacant lots of inflammable rubbish which could be a fire menace.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce advocates this time of year for general repair and clean-up work such as checking heating systems, repairing fences, brightening of homes and buildings by fresh coats of paint, removal of accumulated rubbish and little about-the-house repair jobs. Many an article which seemed to have a worn-out look last year, will now be useful and everything saved is that much gained for war industry.

Activity is noticeable in the residential areas, where home owners are busy burning rubbish, cleaning cars, cutting lawns and painting outside steps and other portions of their homes, while within drapes are being washed, floors polished, inside woodwork cleaned, and walls and ceilings kalsomined and painted.

Window washers are industriously cleaning windows in many downtown offices. City workers and shoppers are urged to avail themselves of the waste-paper containers provided for refuse on midtown streets when discarding cigarette boxes or loose paper.

Fitness Council Meets Here Thursday

Victoria is the scene this week for a meeting of the National Council of Physical Fitness, attended by representatives from all provinces.

Maj. Ian Eisenhardt, national director of physical fitness, arrived Tuesday in advance of the meeting, which opens Thursday and continues through Sunday.

Former director of physical education for B.C., Maj. Eisenhardt said he believed the work done in this province was the basis for the National Physical Fitness Act. Canada's needs today, he said, is a national crusade for fresh air and sunshine.

Meetings of the council will start Thursday morning at Empress Hotel. A civic luncheon will be given Friday and in the evening the government will tender a banquet. Business sessions will continue through Saturday and on Sunday the council will visit Fairbridge Farm School and meet the Duncan Recreation Council.

Loses Photographs Of Personal Value

About a month ago, R. Ross Sutherland, 1064 Beverley Place, lost a packet of photographs, of great personal value and interest to himself. He has advertised in the hope of having them returned, but having had no response, has appealed to the Times to further assist him in recovering them.

One photograph, prized by Mr. Sutherland, is one of the Marquess of Lorne, who served two terms as Governor-General of Canada in the latter part of the 19th century. The marquess sent the picture to Mr. Sutherland after meeting him in Winnipeg, when Mr. Sutherland graduated with his M.A. from the University of Manitoba in the 1880's. The inscription on the back of the picture would identify it as his, Mr. Sutherland said.

Mr. Sutherland had been showing the photographs to friends, later taking No. 1 streetcar from the corner of Hampshire Road and Oak Bay Avenue to the corner of Beverley Place and Oak Bay Avenue. It was after reaching his home that he missed the photographs from his pocket. His telephone No. is E 9965.

Accountant Retires

H. E. Morris, B.C. Lands Department accountant, has retired on superannuation after 34 years' service with the department. He is succeeded in the position by R. L. Payntz.

Another retirement in the department is R. E. Allen, district forester at Nelson. R. C. St. Clair, forester at Prince Rupert, will take over Mr. Allen's duties, and J. E. Mathieson will become acting forester at Prince Rupert.

City Land Sales

Total receipts from sale of city lands this year are $37,146 compared with $45,163 for the same period last year, according to figures released by the lands commissioner.

However more parcels of land have been sold this year, 108 as compared with 94 for last year. Sales in March alone were 38 parcels for $12,615, compared with 32 in March, 1944 for $11,060. Total receipts for March were $13,005 and $8,486 last year.

Fire Chief Supports City Clean-up Drive

Fire Chief Alex Munroe of the Victoria Fire Department has told the Junior Chamber of Commerce Clean-Up, Paint-Up committee his views on the clean-up drive underway since Monday, stating that such a campaign as is now being conducted has proven invaluable as fire prevention insurance and as an auxiliary to the fire department itself.

"The Clean-Up, Paint-Up campaign not only cleans up, but is permanently constructive by removing dangerous fire hazards," he said.

In wartime, he continued, fire prevention is more than ever a patriotic and public service, for every bit of property destroyed by fire is just as much a loss as it would be if destroyed by enemy bombs, adding that the campaign under the chairmanship of George

A. Beck, had the full support of the department.

"My injunction to the citizens of Victoria, is to co-operate with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its annual campaign; one and all lend a hand, and make Victoria a beautiful and spotless city in which to live free—from fires and disease."

Designed to check neglect before it becomes destructive, the campaign committee is also working in line with the Salvage Corps of Victoria and appeals to all citizens to keep their salvage.

Householders are asked to place accumulated rubbish they wish disposed of, beside their garbage tins this week, to be taken away by city garbage collectors.

A MERSHAM, Buckinghamshire—The striking of the Town Hall's 262-year-old clock was too much for troops billeted below it and they stopped it a few days before D-Day. Many attempts have been made to restart the clock without success and now the job of repairing it has been put over to peacetime.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES
David Bruce got plenty of practice eating standing up during production of Deanna Durbin's new Universal musical, the technicolor "Can't Help Singing" now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, in which he plays a young cavalry lieutenant. The actor hadn't been on a horse in four years so the first three days of production he didn't do any unnecessary sitting down.

Shirley Temple In Diverting Picture

Ethel Hill, J. P. McEvoy and Darrell Ware collaborated on what is being hailed as Shirley Temple's most original and diverting scenario to date. It is the story of "Just Around The Corner," her latest 20th Century-Fox picture, coming tomorrow to the York Theatre. Charles Farrell, Joan Davis, Amanda Duff, Bert Laehr and Bill Robinson are featured in the cast.

The delightful plot is based on Shirley's mistaking her playmate's "Uncle Sam" — a tall, lanky, chin-whiskered old banker — for the Uncle Sam of the U.S.A. Her Daddy has just lost his job and fallen upon hard times due, he says, to "what is happening to Uncle Sam these days," so Shirley feels it her duty to try to help the old gentleman if she can.

DOMINION THEATRE
One of Hollywood's most versatile glamour girls, Dale Evans, currently seen in Republic's high-budget musical, "Song of Nevada," starring Roy Rogers, is a widely-known singer and composer as well as an actress. Among the tunes she has written are "Will You Marry Me, Mr. Laramie?" and a song featured on a national air show, "I'm in Love With a Guy Who Flies in the Sky." The Republic production which has Mary Lee in a top role, is now on the screen at the Dominion Theatre.

ATLAS THEATRE
Bing Crosby was never better as the easy-going guy who gives up hoofing to run a roadhouse on a year's 15 holidays, so he can loaf the other 350 days. Marjorie Reynolds is his pleasant eye-pleasing foil. Irving Berlin wrote the music. Treatment is heart-warming and primed for laughs, and is directed by Mark Sandrich. Besides the two stars the cast includes Marjorie Reynolds, Virginia Dall and Walter Abel. "Holiday Inn" is now being shown at the Atlas Theatre.

CADET THEATRE
"Gypsy Wildcat," Universal's technicolor adventure romance, co-starring Maria Montez, Jon Hall and Peter Coe, is the current attraction at the Cadet Theatre. The stars are supported by

Sees Sawdust Fuel Lack

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fifty per cent of the sawdust burners presently in operation in Vancouver next winter will be "considerably worse" than that experienced two years ago.

The present sawdust shortage is caused by a drop in log production. In addition, it is stated much of the timber being cut is hemlock, which householders do not favor as sawdust fuel because of its high moisture content compared with that of fir.

ELLY, Cambridge

— One child was killed and another is missing after two aircraft collided in mid-air and crashed on some cottages.
